

DPD Air Conditioners for cool Volkswagens

A DPD Air Conditioner for each VW model

All VWs are not created equal. They come in different horsepowers. And different shapes and sizes. Which all add up to big differences in cooling requirements. So we engineer a DPD air conditioner for each model. Not just one for all.

Compatible components

DPD components are compatible. With your VW. And with each other. Your VW will hardly know it's there. But you won't be able to be without it. All together it's a perfectly balanced system. Rugged and powerful. But compact.

Dependability by design

Your DPD air conditioner is a beauty. Perfectly matched to your VW's dash and interior. It belongs. But most important are the parts you seldom see.

Take the compressor. An ideal mate for your VW engine. It asks little of the horsepower. Or the gasoline.

The cooling coils are engineered to do a bigger job than you really need. So you get top cooling at cruising speed.

And the blowers are bigger. To move more air while running slower. Quieter.

24/24 Warranty

Since DPD's are as finely engineered as your VW, they carry the same warranty. 24 months or 24,000 miles. You know your VW will easily outlive it. Expect the same from your DPD. And the beauty is, when it's time to trade, you'll find you'll get a far better deal with a DPD air conditioned VW.

Space capsule environment

You'll love your DPD most when the weather's hot and muggy. It removes both heat and humidity. And even when the temperature's down, you'll keep your air conditioner on. To keep out wind and traffic noise. Dirt and dust. Pollen and air pollution. And to listen to your radio. Or carry on a conversation.

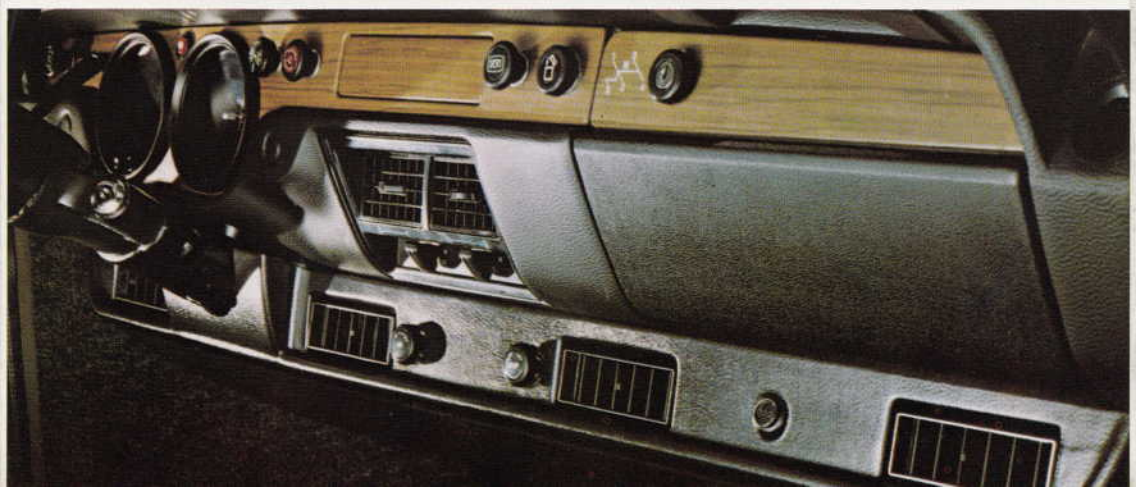

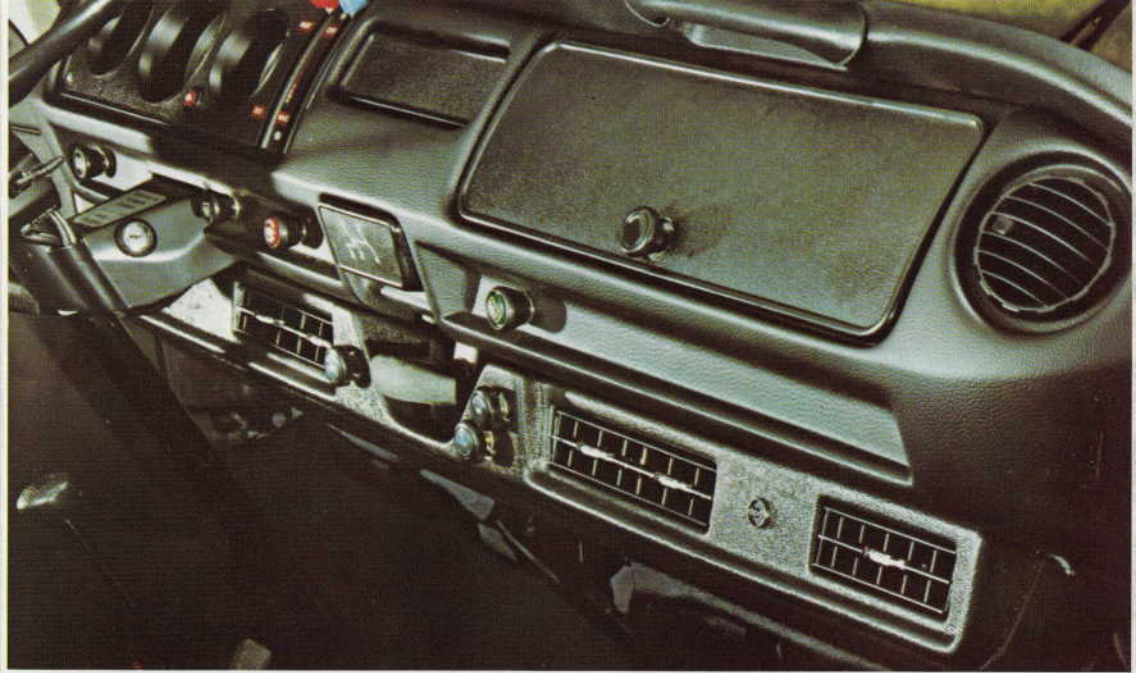

What a DPD is, is a year-around environmental control system.
